Junior College Jottings

By NANCY SHERRILL

NINE WEEKS DOWN: To Danville Junior College students this means mid-term exams. For somewhat alarmed freshmen Elaine Grady, Nancy Clary, Bob Brooks and Steve Meade this new experience presented an emotional problem.

WE'VE GOTTA TEAM, nobody's prouder. Ask a Jaguar such as Mike Gordon what this means and he will say, "It's basketball season." Monday evening was the first meeting of new coach, new team, and new equipment. Your columnist and unless you consider speech a fight. Leonard Hathaway's third speech was, however, on a closely related topic: "What Are the Possibilities of a Third World War?" He came to the conclusion that they are few. We hope the world was listening.

WEIGHING IN proved unnecessary at our hootin' "Harvest Hootenanny" since no one wore tie and tails. In keeping with the theme, deco-

Junior College Jottings, a column that appears in the Commercial News each week, features a student and his impressions of college life. Both Freshmen and Sophomores contribute articles. Mrs. Morrison acts as faculty sponsor.
